

GOVERNANCE POLICY: Board Composition, Development and Performance

1. Number of Directors

The composition of the Board is determined in accordance with the Company's Constitution, which requires that the Board includes Directors from across Australia, and is comprised of not less than three (3) and not more than nine (9) Directors. The Board is to include up to eight (8) Directors (Graduate) residing in Australia and up to two (2) Directors (Independent), provided that the total number of Directors does not exceed nine (9).

There will be no more than two (2) Directors (Graduate) on the Board from any one (1) Allied Health discipline.

So long as the total number of Directors does not exceed nine (9), the Board may appoint a person as a Director (Independent) at any time where the Board considers it necessary or desirable to provide additional specific skills and experience to the Board.

2. Types of Board Members

The Directors of the Company are those persons appointed or elected as Directors in accordance with Articles 39, 40 and 41 of the IAHA Constitution.

A Director (Graduate) must be a Full Member – Allied Health Graduate as defined by the IAHA Constitution.

A Director (Independent) does not need to be a Member, as defined by the IAHA Constitution, or be from an Allied Health discipline per Article 39(d).

However, that Member is not eligible to be appointed as a Director at any meeting of Members unless a nomination signed by the Member accompanied by their consent to act as a Director is given to the Secretary at least 10 Business Days before the meeting.

If the number of nominations received by the Secretary, from persons eligible to be appointed as Directors under the IAHA Constitution, exceeds the number of vacancies to be filled, a ballot must be held for the election of one or more Directors to fill the vacancy(ies).

The Director nomination and ballot process must be conducted in such manner as the Board may direct from time to time (see Attachment A BY LAWS FOR THE NOMINATION AND ELECTION OF IAHA DIRECTORS). The outcome of the ballot process will be announced by the chairperson of the meeting and confirmed by resolution of the Members

Board may appoint a Director to fill a vacancy:

- Allied Health Graduate Full members may be appointed as a Director (Graduate), provided always that the appointment is in accordance with Article 40.
- The Company intends that the Board, to the extent possible, includes Directors from across Australia and that the Board specifically includes:
 - a. up to eight (8) Directors (Graduate) residing in Australia; and
 - b. up to two (2) Directors (Independent), provided that the total number of Directors does not exceed nine (9);
- the Board may appoint a person as a Director (Independent) at any time where the Board considers it necessary or desirable to provide additional specific skills and experience to the Board. To be eligible for appointment as a Director (Independent), the person need not be a Member nor be from an Allied Health discipline; and
- Notwithstanding any other provisions of these Articles, there will be no more than two (2) Directors (Graduate) on the Board from any one (1) Allied Health discipline,

Article 40 of IAHA's Constitution provides that:

In respect to Article 40(a)(i) and (ii), Allied Health Graduate Full Members may nominate to stand for election as a Director of the Company at an AGM or General Meeting where the business of the meeting includes the election of Directors.

Despite any other Article in the Constitution, if the number of nominations received by the Secretary under Article 40(b), from persons eligible to be appointed as Directors under this Constitution, exceeds the number of vacancies to be filled, a ballot must be held for the election of one or more Directors to fill the vacancy(ies). Note: ACNC's Governance Standard 4 requires IAHA to take reasonable steps to be satisfied that its responsible persons (that is, its board members) are not disqualified from managing corporations. If IAHA is not satisfied, it must not appoint the person.

In conducting due diligence prior to accepting a nomination to be a Director, IAHA will search as follows:

- ASIC's Banned and Disqualified Register;
- ACNC's Register of Disqualified Persons;
- the Office of the Registrar of Indigenous Corporations Register of Disqualified Officers; and
- any professional registration or standards association or board (to the extent considered relevant).

Election Notice:

The Secretary shall circulate a notice to IAHA Members indicating any and all Director vacancies at least 6 weeks prior to the AGM or General Meeting where the business of the meeting includes the election of Directors (Election Notice).

A vacancy exists where a Director has retired (for example, in accordance with Article 42(c)) or otherwise ceases to be a director (in accordance with Articles 43, 44 or the Corporations Act).

Director Nominations:

An eligible Full Member may nominate for the role of Director by providing a nomination signed by the Member to the Secretary at any time after the Election Notice has been issued and at least 10 Business Days before the meeting.

The Director nomination and consent form must include the candidate's:

- consent to act as a Director; and

This statement should be provided to the Secretary along with the candidate's nomination or at any time following that nomination but prior to 10 Business Days before the meeting. On receipt of a statement from an eligible candidate, the Secretary will arrange for the statement to be promptly posted on the Members-only section of the IAHA website for Members to be able to access prior to voting at the Director election. The statement should include (but is not limited to):

- an explanation of how the nominee will work as team and contribute to the future of the Company.

Director rotation and tenure is in accordance with Article 42.

Elections

Requirement for a ballot process:

Article 40 provides that if the number of nominations for Director received by the Secretary under Article 40(c) exceeds the number of vacancies to be filled, a ballot must be held for the election of one or more Directors to fill the vacancy (ies).

If there are fewer (or the same number of) nominations than vacancies, then the election of each candidate will be put to the vote under Article 30, as a separate resolution for each candidate.

The following rules apply to the conduct of a ballot:

Returning Officer to conduct election:

- The Chair of the meeting is to appoint an independent Returning Officer to conduct the Director ballot.

- The Returning Officer is to appoint two scrutineers (not Members) to assist with the tally of votes. Where a virtual general meeting is held, the online voting service provider is responsible for tallying the votes and the Returning Officer is not required to appoint scrutineers.
- In the case of any dispute as to the conduct or scrutiny of the ballot, the decision of the Returning Officer shall be final.

Ballots:

All Attending Members shall, prior to attending the meeting and on confirmation of their voting eligibility, be given the ballot papers validated with a distinguishing mark which they must use to cast a vote at the election of Directors.

Each ballot paper shall contain the names of those candidates that have formally nominated for the position in accordance with Article 40(b).

The ballot papers shall be prepared by the Secretary and are to:

- show the position(s) being contested;
- show the names of the candidates contesting each position (in the order drawn by lot);
- distinguish names from each other where a similarity in the names of two or more candidates is likely to cause confusion;
- give the candidates preferred use of name where possible. For example, candidate may prefer Bill for William or Jim for James but nicknames are not acceptable; and
- provide clear and concise direction as to the manner in which the vote is to be recorded.

Where a virtual general meeting is held, the ballot will be conducted electronically using an electronic voting system that addresses the requirements set out below for a preferential ballot approach.

Candidates may address Members:

Each candidate is entitled to address the Members in their pre-recorded video or written statement will be made available on the Members-only section of the IAHA website prior to the ballot being conducted. Noting that statements are available in advance of the meeting, there is no requirement for the candidates to address the Members at the meeting.

Preferential ballot system to apply:

The ballots for the available number of Director (Graduate) positions will be conducted as a "secret ballot" using a "preferential voting system", where each Member voting indicates the order of preference for candidates by placing "1" next to their first choice, "2" next to their second choice, and so on. Where the outcomes of an election would result in more than two (2) Directors on the Board from any one (1) Allied Health discipline, the following process applies:

- only two (2) Director (Graduates) on the Board may be from any one (1) Allied Health discipline; and
- the Director(s) to be appointed from the election (if any) are those first elected under the preferential voting system.

Informal voting:

Ballot papers (whether hard copy or electronic) that:

- do not allocate a number to all listed candidates (although a voter may choose to not allocate a number to one candidate, in which case that candidate is treated as the voter's last preference); or
- are marked or completed so as to be indistinguishable as to the intent of the vote, will be deemed informal and will not be included in the voting tally. The decision of the Returning Officer as to informal votes shall be final.

Tallying votes:

Once all votes are cast, the Returning Officer (or, for a virtual general meeting, the online voting service provider) shall tally the formal votes as follows:

Where only 1 candidate is to be elected:

Where only one candidate is to be elected, the formal votes will be counted as follows:

- an absolute majority is 50% + 1 of the total formal votes cast;
- the formal votes are counted according to the first preferences given by voters (primary vote);
- a candidate that receives an absolute majority of the primary vote is elected;
- if no candidate receives an absolute majority of the primary vote, then subsequent preferences are distributed as follows:
- the candidate who receives the smallest number of first preferences is eliminated from the count;
- the votes initially received by the eliminated candidate are allocated to the remaining candidates accord to the second preference of those who gave their first preference to the now eliminated candidate - this number is now added to the number of first preferences obtained by the remaining candidates;
- if as a result, a remaining candidate now has an absolute majority that person is elected;
- if not, the same process is applied in respect of the candidate who has the smallest aggregate of the primary vote plus allocated preferences, and so on, until a candidate has an absolute majority.

Where 2 or more candidates are to be elected:

Where 2 or more candidates are to be elected, the formal votes will be counted as follows:

- an absolute majority is 50% + 1 of the total formal votes cast;
- the formal votes are counted according to the first preferences given by voters (primary vote);
- a candidate that receives an absolute majority of the primary vote is elected;
- if no candidate receives an absolute majority of the primary vote, then subsequent preferences are distributed as follows:
- the candidate who receives the smallest number of first preferences is eliminated from the count but only for the purposes of the immediate count and this candidate is not excluded from the contest;
- the votes initially received by the eliminated candidate are allocated to the remaining candidates accord to the second preference of those who gave their first preference to the now eliminated candidate - this number is now added to the number of first preferences obtained by the remaining candidates;

- if as a result, a remaining candidate now has an absolute majority that person is elected;
- if not, the same process is applied in respect of the candidate who has the smallest aggregate of the primary vote plus allocated preferences, and so on, until a candidate has an absolute majority.
- to ascertain the next successful candidate, all candidates (other than the successful candidate) are brought into consideration again, including those eliminated in the first count and the following process applies:
- to the number of first preferences obtained by each of the remaining candidates is now added a distribution of the second preferences of those voters who gave their first preferences to the successful candidate;
- if this does not produce an absolute majority for a candidate, the candidate with the lowest aggregate number is eliminated and preferences are distributed, and so on, until the next successful candidate is elected;

This process continues until the required number of Directors are elected (in each case all candidates, other than the successful candidates, are brought into consideration again, including those eliminated in the earlier counts).

Election outcomes:

The Returning Officer will notify the election outcomes to the Chair of the meeting.

The outcome of the ballot process will be announced by the Chair of the meeting and confirmed by resolution of the Members.
