About IAHA

Indigenous Allied Health Australia (IAHA) is a community controlled and member-based Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander allied health organisation. IAHA leads nationally in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce development and support, in health and related sectors, to improve the holistic health and wellbeing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, families and communities.

IAHA's success in providing and facilitating professional development opportunities such as our National Conference, is through creating a culturally centreed environment for leadership growth, networking and connectedness. IAHA provides a platform for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander voices to be heard, a safe space to share knowledges, perspectives and aspirations with each other. Internationally, IAHA is leading global First Nations workforce development, creating a collective space for First Nations sharing, relationships and learning.

Our Patron

Professor Tom Calma AO

Professor Calma is an Aboriginal elder from the Kungarakan tribal group and a member of the Iwaidja tribal group in the NT. Currently the National Coordinator for Tackling Indigenous Smoking and former Chancellor of the University of Canberra, Professor Calma previously served as the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Justice Commissioner and the Race Discrimination Commissioner. Professor Calma has a special interest in Indigenous education, employment and training programs.

Professor Calma is a long-serving supporter of Indigenous Allied Health Australia and IAHA Lifetime Achievement Awardee. He has been a prominent advocate for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health, pioneering the Close the Gap campaign and more recently leading the national effort to tackle Indigenous smoking.

Our Patron

June Oscar AO

June Oscar AO is a proud Bunuba woman from the remote town of Fitzroy Crossing in Western Australia's Kimberley region.

She is a strong advocate for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander languages, social justice, women's issues, and has worked tirelessly to reduce the impacts of Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD). In 2013 June was awarded an Officer of the order of Australia for distinguished service to the Indigenous community of Western Australia, particularly through health and social welfare programs.

June completed her seven-year term as Australia's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Justice Commissioner in 2024. During this time, she published the landmark Wiyi Yani U Thangani (Women's Voices) Report and continues as Chair of the Wiyi Yani U Thangani Institute for First Nations Gender Justice based at the Australian National University.

You are invited to be a sponsor at the 2026 IAHA National Conference and events that will take place from 30 November - 2 December 2026 on the sovereign lands of the Whadjuk peoples, Boorloo (Perth).

Over the past 16 years, IAHA has hosted events providing culturally safe and responsive professional development for our members, allies and delegates. These events, attended by over 4,000 delegates, have included national conferences and forums, international Indigenous forums, student challenges, leadership and allyship workshops.

IAHA recognises that the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander allied health workforce has a critical role in supporting culturally responsive, holistic health and wellbeing where individuals, families and communities can determine and control their own futures.

The 2026 IAHA National Conference will celebrate the diversity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and cultures, the diversity of our membership, as well as interdisciplinary leadership within the allied health sector.

2026 IAHA National Conference delegates will experience:

- Professional development that will provoke delegates both personally and professionally
- Networking opportunities with like-minded people within a culturally diverse and safe space
- Opportunities for growth, learning and connection
- A Gala celebration of excellence in the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander allied health sector
- Enriching cultural experiences and sharing opportunities
- Thought provoking sessions focusing on embedding cultural responsiveness working towards eliminating racism.

100%

Who Will Attend?

IAHA National Conferences and events are leading professional development opportunities for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health workforce and students, the broader workforce, NGO's and Nation builders, health service providers, policy makers, academics and corporate organisations. It is anticipated that the 2026 events will be attended by over 450 delegates including:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander allied health professionals and students across a broad range of health and wellbeing discipline and practice areas
- The broader Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health workforce, including Aboriginal Health Practitioners, nurses and doctors
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health services and organisations
- Academic staff and clinical education
- Researchers
- Policymakers
- Program managers
- Health service providers
- Workforce organisations and professional associations
- Corporate supporters committed to Closing the Gap
- Non Indigenous health and related sector allies
- International First Nations stakeholders and partners

Our Impact

Benefits of Sponsorship

Delegates will be engaged via a strategic campaign that capitalises on IAHA's partnerships nationally, as well as a targeted communications campaign involving print and online advertising through Indigenous and health-related publications, websites, and social media. Your organisation can feature in a comprehensive national marketing plan. Benefits include:

- Exposure to a national audience within the allied health and Indigenous health spaces
- Recognition through acknowledgement and demonstration of your support for culturally responsive partnerships
- Promotion of your organisation's services, opportunities and/or products
- Opportunity to raise your company profile amongst a valuable target audience during the conference
- Expansion of relationships and extension of your networks with government, business and Indigenous health sector
- Learning first-hand about the emerging Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander allied health workforce
- Inclusion in targeted marketing campaigns
- Increase attraction of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce, partners and/or client base
- Building knowledge of culturally safe and responsive action

Location

Boorloo (Perth) stands on the traditional lands of the Whadjuk Noongar people. The name translates to “place of the quokka,” paying homage to the unique flora and fauna found in the region. It symbolizes the harmonious relationship between the Noongar people and the land they have called home for thousands of years.

The Noongar people have lived in the south-west corner of Western Australia for at least 45,000 years. There are several language groups that make up the Noongar, including the Whadjuk, who are the traditional owners of the land around Boorloo.

Venue

Uniquely located in Perth’s central business district on the banks of the Swan River and adjacent to Elizabeth Quay, the Perth Convention and Exhibition Centre (PCEC) is Western Australia’s only dedicated and purpose-built convention, exhibition, and meeting venue.

Perfectly positioned on the doorstep of Elizabeth Quay, PCEC is one of the most centrally located venues in Boorloo – just a short stroll from hotels, landmarks and riverside paths.

PCEC is surrounded by some of Perth’s top hotels, including The Ritz-Carlton, Adina, InterContinental, and Parmelia Hilton – all within easy walking distance.

Sponsorship Opportunities

To support a productive exchange of individual, community and organisational perspectives, IAHA strives to maximise participation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people from around Australia, speakers, facilitators, delegates and performers. A significant proportion of the financial sponsorship recieved will be directed for this purpose.

The National Conference will provide a unique opportunity for sponsors to communicate with and promote their organisation within health and related sectors. We rely on a small group of supporters at different levels. All supporting organisations will be promoted via a range of initiatives reflecting their level of support for this event.

IAHA has a demonstrated track record of hosting successful and relevant national and international events over the past thirteen years which positively profile our supporters and partners. As a national Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander not-for-profit organisation, all support is targeted directly to the event and participation of delegates in celebrating the achievements and innovation in allied health.

The National Conference and events will be promoted through various sectors, including academic, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health services, allied health and other health professional associations, governments, community organisations, and allied health stakeholders.

FEEDBACK FROM 2025 CONFERENCE DELEGATES

- "I'm a non-Indigenous person and this was the first Indigenous led conference I attended. The overall vibe of the conference was amazing and I don't think can be explained in words - you just had to be there."
- "Opportunity to learn more about culture and incorporate changes into our work related to ACCHOs and Aboriginal Health services in general."
- "I left this conference feeling inspired and excited seeing so many amazing young Indigenous allied health professionals preparing to graduate and enter to the work force along with all the incredible things Indigenous allied health professionals are doing all over the country to better the health and wellbeing of our people."

A range of sponsorship opportunities is listed on the following pages for consideration, however, specific or tailored packages can be negotiated. The 2026 IAHA National Conference and events provide many opportunities for sponsorship participation and are in no way limited. We would welcome the opportunity to discuss your marketing objectives and any further ideas you may have on individual sponsorship.

Naming our Packages

In recognition of Country, where our IAHA head office is based, we honour local cultures, therefore our packages take language into the heart of what we do.

In Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures we do not see a hierarchy when we look at and think about our animals, plants or birds, as they are equal with us, as we all play a role in our collective ecosystem with and for our peoples and our generations to come.

These animals and birds provide us with our Totems, food and clothing and have supported our survival for tens of thousands of years. They are a respected integral part of our lives.

We have chosen animals and birds that are important to our people to represent our sponsorship packages. These packages use the language of the Ngambri (Kamberri) Walgalu peoples whose lands our Head Office is situated on.

Show your support for IAHA and our members by purchasing a sponsorship opportunity for the 2026 IAHA National Conference.

Two Opportunities

Prominently promote your organisation to delegates as they eat a hearty and nutritious lunch. You have the opportunity to secure exclusive rights to sponsor a lunch at the 2026 IAHA National Conference, so be quick!

Your investment will give your organisation:

- Prominent signage displayed at the IAHA 2026 IAHA National Conference Lunch
- Option to host a lunchtime table discussion
- Serviettes branded with your logo

Our Gala Dinner is the showcase of our conference. Promote your organisation at the social focal point of this event. Sponsorship of our 360 photo booth helps our delegates create lasting memories of this celebration of excellence.

Your investment will give your organisation:

- Prominent signage displayed at the photo booth
- Your organisation promotional material in the delegate bag

Why Invest?

Your contribution will:

- Contribute to Closing the Gap in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health outcomes
- Support interprofessional education and innovative multidisciplinary learning on a national level
- Contribute to building the capacity of the broader Indigenous health workforce

IAHA is a not-for-profit organisation and endorsed charitable institution. IAHA is registered with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC), the independent national regulator of charities, and has deductible gift recipient (DGR) status.
